general observations: Dark patination. Edge milled. Figured in Clapp's Cents of 1798-9. The best example Newcomb could find, and it cost him $75.00. Rare.

obverse: Scratch over chest reverse: E in ONE practically obliterated provenance (including sale catalogue, buyer, and price realized):

H.R. Newcomb, August 1944 $75.00. This cent does not appear to be Clapp's. I have checked Clapp's book, however, and the coin we have is definitely no. 6 in his plate. Clapp grades his coin as F, which ours would be, while coin in his photo record would grade less than good. (#6 in Cents of 1798-1799.)
